Between the Somme and the Oise the encounters with mines continue actively. In the suburbs of Faye our artillery has bombarded the trenches and the works of the enemy.

In the Argonne district at St. Hubert and at Courtes Chaussees there have been engagements with bombs and hand grenades.

There were particularly violent artillery encounters to the east of the Eparges, in the department of Meuse, as well as on the Lorraine front, to the north of Arracourt, in the forest of Parroy and to the south of Leintrey, all in the department of Meuse, all in the department of Meurthe and Moselle.

Last night's official statement reads:

A violent cannonade is reported in Belgium, in the region of Nieuport and Steenstraete, around Arras (in France), in front of Roye and in Champagne from Auberive to Souain. In the Argonne the enemy bombarded with heavy shells the gulley of the Fontaine-Aux-Charmes and directed on the road from La Harazee to St. Hubert a tentative attack which was stopped promptly.

Subject.

Officials of the Department of Commerce are working on the itinerary of Alexander Behr, vice president of the Russian-American Chamber of Commerce at Moscow, now on his way to New York to develop Russian trade through visits to commercial centers in the United States.

The establishment of a Russian-American bank in Russia is involved in Mr. Behr's campaign, which he will discuss with commercial organizations in all important centers of the United States.

Need of American Bank.

Views of the need for an American bank in Russia are expressed in a let-isting commercial relations between the United States and Russia, we are confronted with questions of extended credit, means of securing more practical methods of payments and the need of a medium whereby matters of transportation, insurance, standing of firms and other confidential subjects could be treated to the satisfaction of those in the Uniter States who are not acquainted with Russia and its people, and of Russian merchants not acquainted with existing conditions of trade in the United States.

The Home Owner

It is very generally conceded that the home owner makes a better citizen than the renter. Naturally there are conditions which make it inadvisable or even impossible for a man to own his home. But in the vast majority of cases a home should be acquired.

You will take more pride in a house which belongs to you and you will have more interest in your neighborhood and in your city when that pride of ownership is felt.

But bear this in mind, however. When selecting the location for that home be sure to choose a section the past record of which is a guarantee of its future. You want your home in a place which will suit you five or ten years from now as well as now.

Chevy Chase will supply such a place. A personal inspection will show you what has been done there, and this development will also present an accurate prophecy for the
